► THE TALKS

09:00-09:20 REGISTRATION

09:20-09:30 INTRODUCTION AND WELCOME

1 BEING ME BY MARK MEREDITH

09:30-10:30

Exploring who we are and what we feel is a journey for us, from our first days as infants to our transition into young adults, and beyond. In recent years there has been a growth in research into emotions in learning and achievement and the important role they play. This has provoked much discussion about the best way to provide environments which support each learner's personal, emotional and social needs. During this session we will present you with some tried and tested classroom activities to help you to achieve this, exploring philosophies including Emotional Intelligences and Mindfulness.

THE CAMBRIDGE LEARNING JOURNEY

10:45-11:30

COFFEE BREAK

2 THE FLIPPING CLASSROOM! BY STEVE HASLER

11:30-12:30

Selecting from what is on offer on the Internet can be daunting. We look at some good exam preparation stuff 'out there', while remembering that the Internet has also 'resurrected' some great tasks and activities from the past. After all, some of us enjoyed our learning before the 'revolution'!

3 SPOTLIGHT ON DRAMA BY RACHEL JEFFRIES

12:30-13:30

All the world's a stage, but what if we can't act? Fortunately, drama in the classroom doesn't always have to be about acting it out. This session will look at how drama can benefit the English language classroom for the purposes of building collaboration, critical thinking and experimenting with emotions. We will discuss teaching ideas and activities that can unlock new opportunities for your learners. No acting ability required!

► THE SPEAKERS

1 MARK MEREDITH began teaching English in Spain in 2010. He is currently working as a Teacher Trainer for Cambridge University Press and finishing his Trinity DipTsol with Oxford International. Over the past 7 years he has taught professional English and future university students on pre-session courses. Apart from this he has also run his own language tuition centre, taught all ages in private academies and worked online as a coach for Rosetta Stone.

2 STEVE HASLER was born in Cambridge and has never really escaped! A teacher and translator who also works as a consultant and presenter for Cambridge English, he loves languages and all that they involve, including examining, which he did for over 20 years. Above all, he believes that language is fun.

3 RACHEL JEFFRIES started her teaching career in 2008 as a secondary teacher of Drama in the UK, later moving into the world of ELT. She has experience in teaching a wide range of nationalities, in various countries including Italy, Australia and Spain and all ages from pre-primary to adults. She holds the PGDE (Post Graduate Diploma in Education) and the DELTA (Diploma in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages). Rachel is currently a Teacher Trainer at Cambridge University Press Iberia.
