

1 Join the sentences. Make one sentence with a similar meaning.

- People say things. Why don't you ever listen?
Why don't you ever listen to what people say?
- I tell my mother things. She never remembers.
My mother never remembers
- You're talking about something. I don't understand.
I don't understand
- He always wears dark glasses. He seems pretentious.
What makes him
- I like my teacher. He's got a good sense of humour.
What
- This city is dangerous. You must remember this.
What

2 Tick (✓) the correct sentences. Correct the wrong sentences.

- I can't afford going out this weekend. ☒ can't afford to go out
- Do you feel like watching a DVD this evening? ☐
- Thanks a lot. I promise to pay you back tomorrow. ☐
- I don't mind washing up but I hate to cook. ☐
- I'm learning driving and I hope to get my licence soon. ☐
- Imagine not to have a mobile phone. I couldn't survive. ☐

3 Complete the sentence with a verb in the right form. Use the gerund or infinitive + to.

- Don't forget to lock the door.
- You must remember your grandmother for your present.
- I don't remember you could borrow my tablet computer!
- I feel better since I stopped so much coffee.
- It was hot so we stopped an ice cream.
- If he isn't answering his mobile, try the land line.
- I tried all the questions, but I'm sure I made some mistakes.

4 Match the two parts of the sentences.

- She's very friendly and enjoys e
- I had to walk because nobody offered a to give me a lift.
- Nick and Anna have finally decided
b parking the car.
- If you want to save money I suggest
c to get the job.
- I'm going to apply but I don't expect
d wearing a suit and tie.
- The instructor told me to practise
e meeting new people.
- I don't like weddings because I detest
f staying in a B&B.
- g to get married.