

1

- A: Have you ever flown in a plane?
 B: Yes, I have. I flew to London last year. Have you ever driven a car?
 A: No, I haven't. Have you ever swum in the North Sea?
 B: No, I haven't. Have you ever eaten in an Indian restaurant?
 A: Yes, I have. We ate in one in Amsterdam. Have you ever been to Amsterdam?
 B: No, I haven't. Have you ever spoken to an American?
 A: Yes, I have. I met an American girl a month ago. Have you ever raised money for charity?
 B: Yes, I took part in a fun run for charity last year.

2

- A: Where's your brother?
 B: He's doing his homework in his bedroom. He's taking an important exam tomorrow.
 A: And your mother? What's she doing?
 B: She's making the dinner in the kitchen.
 A: Where's your father?
 B: He's doing the housework. I think he's cleaning the bathroom at the moment.
 A: That's funny. I can see him reading the newspaper in the garden.
 B: Really? Maybe he's taking a break.

3

- A: Have you ever read the Guinness Book of World Records?
 B: No, I haven't. Why?
 A: My New Year's resolution is to get my name in the book.
 B: What world record are you going to break?
 A: I don't know if I'm going to break a world record or set a new world record.
 B: Why don't you set a new world record for telling the worst jokes?
 A: Very funny! Tell you what, I think I'll break the world record for eating ice cream.
 B: Can you afford it? Ice cream costs money. I'm going to start saving tomorrow.

4

- A: What time do you go to bed during the week?
 B: At about 11 o'clock.
 A: Do you go to sleep immediately?
 B: No, I usually read in bed for about 30 minutes.
 A: Have you ever been awake all night?
 B: Yes, but only once.
 A: What did you do?
 B: I studied all night. I had an important exam the next morning.
