

1 A and B are talking about UFOs. Write the dialogue. Follow the prompts.

- A: Ask B if he/she believes in UFOs.
B: Say yes and say why.
A: Ask B to give an example.
B: Give the example of the crash at the Roswell base in New Mexico in 1947.
A: Say what some army officers said it was.
B: Say what others said they had seen.
A: Ask why people would hide the truth if it was a UFO.
B: Give a reason.
A: Say you think that it's nonsense.
End the dialogue in a suitable way.

2 A and B are talking. Write the dialogue. Follow the prompts.

- A: Li / speak / Chinese?
B: No, she / not. However, I think she understands quite a lot.
A: Her mother / Chinese, / not / she?
B: Yes. Although / her mother / speak Mandarin, she / not use it at home.
A: That's strange. Despite / give / her children Chinese names, she / not teach / her language.
B: No. However / she / cook / a lot of Chinese food.
A: Yes, and they always celebrate the Chinese New Year, even though / the children / born in England.
B: Yes, that / be / a lot of fun. They have colourful parades and fireworks.
A: / 2012 the Year of the Rabbit?
B: No, it / not be / the Year of the Rabbit because it was the Year of the Rabbit last year.

3 A and B are talking about solving problems. Write the dialogue. Follow the prompts. Use the vocabulary in the unit where possible.

- A: Ask B what he/she does when he/she has a problem.
B: Say you usually look for a solution on your own.
A: What about if it's a big problem?
B: Say you sometimes have a break and return to it on another occasion.
A: Ask B what he/she does if he/she can't decide what to do.
B: Say you discuss it with your parents or your best friend.
A: Ask if they usually solve it.
B: Yes. Say your mother helps because she's very calm.
A: Ask if she gives good advice.
B: Yes. Say she tells you to pretend a problem's not there and it'll disappear.
End the dialogue in a suitable way.

4 A and B are talking about the Loch Ness Monster. Write the dialogue. Follow the prompts.

- A: You / think / the Loch Ness Monster / really exist?
B: It / exist. Hundreds / people / take photographs of it.
A: Yes, but those photos / be fake.
B: I / absolutely certain that there / be something strange in the lake.
A: I / not agree. Research teams / explore / whole lake / scientific instruments and they / not find anything.
B: The monster / live under the ground.
A: There / not be / monster. There / not be / enough food / lake.
B: That's what the scientists say, but it's a conspiracy.
A: What / you / mean?
B: They / hide Nessie from us.
A: I think that / be / complete rubbish.