

1 A and B are asking each other questions about great breakthroughs in medicine. Follow the prompts to write the dialogue.

- A: Ask B what William Harvey described in his book in 1628.
- B: Give details. Ask A what a vaccination is.
- A: Give details. Ask B what a stethoscope is used for.
- B: Give details. Ask A what Louis Pasteur is remembered for.
- A: Give details. Ask B what doctors can do with the X-ray.
- B: Give details. Ask A what the problem was with the first blood transfusions.
- A: Give details. Ask B how the discovery of the structure of the DNA molecule has been useful.
- B: Give details. Ask A when and where the first organ transplant between humans was carried out.
- A: Give details.

2 A and B are talking about what you can do to improve the quality of your life. Follow the prompts to write the dialogue.

- A: Ask B to explain why it's important to watch what you eat.
- B: Give details. Ask A to explain the importance of exercise.
- A: Give details. Ask B to explain why it's important to learn how to use your time well.
- B: Give details. Ask A to explain why it's important to continue to learn things.
- A: Give details. Ask B to explain why it's important to have good relationships with other people.
- B: Give details. Ask A why it's important to have a positive attitude to life.
- A: Give details. Ask to explain why it's important to love yourself.
- B: Give details. Ask A to explain why it's important to have a sense of humour.
- A: Give details. Ask B to explain why it's important to talk about your problems.
- B: Give details.

3 A and B are talking about feelings. Follow the prompts to write the dialogue.

- A: Ask B when he/she feels tired.
- B: Give details. Ask A if he/she has ever felt homesick.
- A: Give details. Ask B if he/she has ever felt frightened.
- B: Give details. Ask A if he/she ever feels panicky.
- A: Give details. Ask B if he/she is ever inattentive.
- B: Give details. Ask A if he/she is ever absent-minded.
- A: Give details. Ask B if he/she ever feels jealous.
- B: Give details. Ask A if he/she ever feels sorry for him/herself.
- A: Give details. Ask B if he/she ever feels that he/she has no confidence in him/herself.
- B: Give details. Ask A if he/she ever feels angry.
- A: Give details.

4 A and B are talking about animals. Follow the prompts to write the dialogue. Use the passive where possible.

- A: Did you read that article about animals that take medicine when they're ill?
- B: Yes, some chimpanzees eat plants that / use / humans as medicine.
- A: And elephants / know / eat soft rocks to stay healthy.
- B: Yes, the rocks contain sodium, which / need / neutralise the toxins in their diet.
- A: A lot of animals / think / have similar instincts.
- B: Animals / know / communicate with each other as well.
- A: Yes, dolphins / say / be very intelligent.
- B: Yes, it / say / they get ill and depressed if they're isolated.
- A: That's right. They / know / need physical contact and social interaction.