A: What happened to you yesterday? I thought you were going to come and see me.

B: Yes, sorry, I had a few problems.

A: You should have phoned.

B: I was going to phone you, but I forgot. I was visiting my sister in hospital.

A: You told me she was going to have a baby. Has she had it?

B: No, there are complications and the doctor decided it would be better for her to stay in hospital.

A: Is she alright?

B: She's upset because she thought having a baby would be easier.

A: Anyway, I went to the cinema with Nick in the end.

B: Great! I knew you would find something to do without me.
