A: Hi there! How are you?

B: I'm fine. How about you? What are you doing?

A: I'm really well. We're having a day off school today. It's a public holiday here in England.

B: Really? Are you having a nice time?

A: Yes, at the moment I'm playing a video game with my friend. It's great fun.

B: Who's winning?

A: I am. What's the weather like today in Italy?

B: It's very sunny. How about in England?

A: It's cold and it's raining. That's why we're in the house and not outside.

2

A: What are your parents doing at the moment?

B: My mother's making the lunch in the kitchen, and my father's reading a book in the living room.

A: Isn't your father working today?

B: No, he's having a day off.

A: Is your sister at home?

B: Yes, she's in the bathroom. I think she's having a shower.

A: Are you working on your computer?

B: No, I'm chatting with you!

3

A: Are you enjoying your holiday?

B: Yes, I'm having a great time.

A: Where are you staying?

B: In a hotel in the town centre.

A: What are you enjoying about your holiday?

B: Well, there are some fantastic shops, so I really like shopping here.

A: Is your brother with you?

B: Yes, he's writing a postcard to our grandparents at the moment. He always writes postcards when he's on holiday.

4

A: I'm going out now, Mum.

B: But Jackie, you've got school tomorrow and you've got lots of homework.

A: I can finish it tomorrow. I've got a bit of time in the morning.

B: Why don't you finish it now?

A: Because it's Mark's birthday today and we want to have some fun.

B: Where are you going?

A: We're going to the park.

B: Oh all right, but the weather's changing. Have you got an umbrella?

A: Yes, it's in the hall.
