

- 1 A: What did you do last night?
B: I watched a film on TV.
A: Was it funny?
B: No, it wasn't a comedy.
A: What happened in the film?
B: A young writer went to Paris with his girlfriend and his future parents-in-law.
A: Did they have a good time?
B: Yes, they did, but not together. The writer didn't want to go out with his girlfriend and her parents, so he started walking around Paris on his own.
A: Did he meet another woman?
B: Yes, but she wasn't real. She was part of his fantasy world.

- 2 A: Did you go anywhere special yesterday?
B: No, I went to school in the morning.
A: Did you see your friends there?
B: Yes, and I saw a lot of teachers too!
A: Did you speak to anyone for the first time?
B: Yes, I spoke to the new boy in the class.
A: Did you get a good mark for the History test?
B: No, I got a terrible mark!
A: Did you write anything last night?
B: Yes, I wrote an email to my best friend.

- 3 A: Why was Rosa Parks important in American history?
B: Because she said 'no' when a white man wanted her seat.
A: Why was this important?
B: Because the law then said that black people had to give their seat to a white person.
A: Did the police arrest her?
B: Yes, they put her in prison.
A: What did the black people in Alabama do?
B: They protested and they stopped using the buses.
A: Did Rosa Parks die young?
B: No, she didn't. She lived to the age of 92.

- 4 A: What do you remember about Queen Elizabeth I?
B: I remember that she was the queen of England in the sixteenth century.
A: Why did she become queen?
B: Because her only brother died when he was young.
A: Did she have any sisters?
B: Yes, her half-sister Mary was queen for a few years before her.
A: How old was she when she became queen?
B: She was only 25.
