Live. Learn. Feel.
Join us on the journey to successful learning.

Cambridge University Press invites you to join us at the centre of our mission as we explore student-centred learning, the journey to get there and the rewards we receive upon reaching it. Set off on your own personal pathway of discovery exploring a world of communication, collaboration and creativity. In the next stage of our challenge we will take a look at how we can apply these competencies and life skills into the learning journey.

Our exploration then continues as we look at how drama can benefit the English language classroom, by helping to build collaboration; promote critical thinking; and through exploring emotions. We will discuss teaching ideas and activities that can unlock new opportunities for your learners. No acting ability required!

SPEAKERS

MARK MEREDITH began teaching English in Spain in 2010. He holds a Trinity DipTesor and is currently working as a Teacher Trainer for Cambridge University Press. Since arriving in Spain he has taught primary and secondary students, future university students on pre-sessional courses and has run a variety of professional English courses for adults. Apart from this he also set up his own language tuition centre, taught in private academies and worked online as a coach for Rosetta Stone.

RACHEL JEFFRIES started her teaching career over 10 years ago as a secondary teacher of Drama in the UK, later moving into the world of ELT. She has experience in teaching a wide range of ages and nationalities in various countries including the UK, Italy, Australia and Spain. Rachel has recently written Come Alive!, a booklet of creative drama activities to accompany Storyfun (Cambridge University Press) as well a creative drama project for secondary classes. She holds the PGDE (Post Graduate Diploma in Education) and the DELTA (Diploma in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages). Rachel is currently a Teacher Trainer at Cambridge University Press Iberia.
