When we work together, we can build brighter futures for our learners.

At Cambridge, we know that when we work together, we can build brighter futures for our learners. At this year's Cambridge Experience, we are delighted to welcome Andria Zafirakou, MBE, an art and textiles teacher in Brent on the outskirts of London, one of the world's most ethnically diverse places. Andria's message is clear: in whatever medium it comes, the importance of ensuring young people have access to creativity and expression has never been more pressing. Andria will share with us her vision and story of how through education, the lives of many children at her school have been changed.

After Andria's keynote, we will have the opportunity to explore these ideas further, as Rachel Jeffries leads a panel to discuss the implications for the classroom and share ideas for putting theory into practice. Andria will be joined on the panel by local teachers.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

ANDRIA ZAFIRAKOU, MBE

(2018 Global prize winner, Best teacher in the world)

Andria Zafirakou, a teacher at Alperton Community School in Brent, was crowned the best teacher in the world in 2018.

Andria was born in north-west London to Greek-Cypriot parents and state-educated in Brent and Camden. She is passionate about education and changing the lives of young people and underserved communities through creativity. She has worked her entire teaching career of 14 years at Alperton Community School and is now Associate Deputy Headteacher leading on staff professional development.

Using the prize money awarded by the Global Teacher prize, Andria founded a charity called Artists in Residence (AiR) with an aim to improve arts education in schools.

Andria has also been named in the top ten of The Evening Standard's 1000 Londoners List, a list of the most influential people in London. She also sits on the World Economic Forum's Global Future Leaders Council.
