Live. Learn. Feel.
Join us on the journey to successful learning.

Our journey begins with Simon Ward and the concept of positive education which places an emphasis on the whole child focusing on social, emotional and psychological skills. Participants will be introduced to a model that brings these ideas together and can be incorporated into life and work of the classroom.

Later, Kate Newell will delve into the realm of critical thinking, consider a working definition of the term and look at different activities that can be used both in and out of the classroom to sharpen our students' critical faculties.

We will finish with Rachel Jeffries looking at how drama can benefit the English language classroom, by encouraging collaboration; promoting critical thinking; and exploring emotions. Teaching ideas and activities which can unlock new opportunities for your learners will be discussed. No acting ability required!

SPEAKERS

SIMON WARD is a Senior Practitioner Educational Psychologist in England where his specialism is positive behaviour and well-being. For a number of years, Simon has been running a variety of projects to develop the attitudes, skills and experiences which allow individuals and organisations to thrive and lead to success and achievement. As a regular trainer, he has delivered seminars on a range of topics including: motivation and learning, positive behaviour management and solution oriented approaches. Simon is currently a consultant for The Cambridge Learning Journey.

KATE NEWELL has been working in EFL for over 20 years, as a teacher, trainer and member of the presenters' team of Cambridge Assessment English. Kate enjoys all aspects of teaching and training and firmly believes that there is a strong link between enjoyment of class and the production of excellent student results.

RACHEL JEFFRIES started her teaching career over 10 years ago as a secondary teacher of Drama in the UK. Currently a Teacher Trainer at Cambridge University Press Iberia, Rachel has recently written Come Alive!, a booklet of creative drama activities to accompany Storyfun (Cambridge University Press) as well as a creative drama project for secondary classes.
